

HOUSE AND SENATE.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

WRANGLING IN THE HOUSE.

Political Speeches the One Feature of the Day in the House—The Election Bill Debated in the Senate—Other Dispatches From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house yesterday was the scene of wild confusion precipitated by the refusal of the speaker to allow debate on the question of the approval of the journal. Mr. Mills in a very excited manner ran down the aisle and shaking his fist at the speaker denounced him as practicing a fraud upon the house. But the speaker was immovable and called upon those opposed to approving the journal to rise, and counting "one," "two," "three," declared the motion to approve the journal carried 97 to 3.

Further demonstrations were made by Mills and the time was consumed until 1 o'clock when the journal was finally approved.

The District of Columbia appropriation bill was then carried into committee, but beyond a number of political speeches no action was taken on the bill proper and the house adjourned.

In the senate Mr. Aldrich at 1:50 asked for the consideration of his resolution for a change of the rules. The question was discussed until 2 o'clock when the elections bill was laid before the senate, and Mr. George, who had the floor, declined to yield to anybody and continued his speech against the bill.

At 6:15 the senate adjourned.

Indian Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house committee on Indian affairs, yesterday nearly completed the Indian appropriation bill for the coming fiscal year. The bill will carry an appropriation of about $6,950,000, against $6,742,767 appropriated for the current fiscal year.

The most important items on the bill are for the support of Indian tribes $2,930,245, for the subsistence and civilization of various bands, purchase of agricultural implements, etc., $755,000, and for the miscellaneous expenses of the service $593,253.

The appropriation for the support of Indian schools is placed at $1,870,900.

The appropriation for the support of the Sioux is $1,000,000, an increase of $250,000 over that for the present fiscal year. A few items of the bill remain to be decided upon before it is ready to be reported to the house.

In Behalf of the Commercial Travelers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The house committee on commerce reported favorably to the house yesterday a bill amending the interstate commerce law so as to allow railroad companies to make reduced rates of transportation and to permit them to carry a weight of sample baggage to commercial travelers who travel for wholesale houses. The bill also permits the companies to carry its employees free. M. J. Ockering, chairman of the federation of commercial travelers addressed the committee in support of the bill.

UNSOLVING THE MYSTERY.

Cincinnati Abducted Children Recognize Their Abductor.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—Charles Aker, age 15, of McKicken avenue, who works for A. E. Otte & Company, next door to Hart's shoe store, in an empty room over which the missing children, Rachel Fritsch and Charles Phillips, were found, was before Chief Deitch again yesterday to explain his connection with the mystery. He said on the day the children disappeared he saw them walking down Sixth street and that was all he knew about them.

The children and their parents were sent for and the former identified young Aker as the boy who had locked them in the room. Mrs. Phillips says she was standing talking to a lady on Sixth street when the boy approached her and asked her if she had not heard from the children. She thought it funny that the boy should ask such a question, and she inquired of him what he knew about it. He told her that he had seen the children on the day of their disappearance and that they were accompanied by a man wearing a light overcoat. He told her a lot of stuff and she was satisfied that he was trying to mislead her. It was said that the boy had several companions that he knew where the children were locked up in a room.

After the children had identified him, the boy became nervous and told several contradictory stories. He could not remember having told Mrs. Phillips anything about seeing the children with a man, but after being pressed, acknowledged that he had. He also told a story of having seen two men on the roof of the house where the children were found and made an effort to describe them. He says he heard them walking around on the roof and went up to see what was going on.

Col. Deitch feels confident that he is on the track of the persons who concealed the children in the room so long for dark purposes of their own.

A MAIL CARRIER'S FATE.

Murdered in the Mountains of Kentucky and the Mail Stolen.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Jan. 21.—News was received here of the murder and robbery of the mail-carrier between Whitesburg, Ky., and Big Stone Gap, Va. The carrier had been missing since the recent heavy snow in that region, but was not discovered until Thursday. He had been shot twice and the mail pouch robbed. There is no clue to the doers of the deed. The new carrier has a guard of ten well armed men, who make the trip with him.

KING KALAKAUA DEAD.

A Change in the Ruler of the Hawaiian Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—King Kalakaua died at the Palace hotel at five minutes to 10 o'clock yesterday morning of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Kalakaua was to have left here this week for Honolulu on the United States flag-ship Charleston. He returned here last week from a trip through southern California. He was in poor health when he arrived in San Francisco some time ago, and it is believed that the banquets and receptions which he has been called upon to attend, are the cause of his present alarming condition. It was not until Monday, when his physicians announced that the king was suffering from Bright's disease, that the true nature of his malady was known here.

QUEEN KAPIOLANI.

King Kalakaua was little more than the mayor of a little city so far as the number of his subjects were concerned. His subjects in 1884 numbered only 80,598. The total area of the Sandwich islands is only 6,677 square miles—not more than half as big as Presidio county, or Tom Green county in Texas. The native population is allied ethnographically with the Maories of New Zealand. It cost him $5,000,000 a year to run his little kingdom. The chief productions of the islands are sugar, rice and lepers. In 1888 the islands exported $10,818,000 worth of sugar. Ninety per cent. of the trade of the islands is with the United States.

Kalakaua was a hard drinker and a slave to other appetites. He was 54 years old and has reigned sixteen years. His wife is Queen Kapiolani, at whom the English royal highnesses turned up their royal noses when their royal mother, Victoria, commanded them to take the black-skinned queen out to dinner on her recent visit to England.

King Kalakaua's successor is expected to be Princess Lydia Kamakeha Liliuokalani, eldest sister of the king. She is 52 years old and is much of a woman. She is married to John O. Dominis, governor of Oahu, one of the islands. He is an American by birth and education.

Aside from the sugar we buy of the islands and the goods we sell in return, our chief interest in the islands is the fact that they are our half-way house to Australia.

Railroad Sued for a Fire Loss.

FORT WAYNE, Jan. 21.—John W. White as trustee for the American Wheel company has brought suit, against the Nickel-Plate railroad for $111,893 damages, this being the loss sustained by the wheel trust through the burning of their works in this city a few months ago. The fire was caused by sparks from a passing locomotive, and it is claimed by Mr. White that the engine was worn out, old, out of repair and defective in the smokestack and spark-arrester, and that the trainmen overtaxed the engine by pulling too many loaded cars, necessitating the opening of the fire-box, and in consequence, sending sparks up through the smokestack. The result of the suit will be awaited with much interest.

Standard Oil Company's Grab.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 21.—Negotiations were concluded yesterday evening by which the Standard Oil company will acquire all the property of C. C. Harris, the largest individual producer in the northwestern Ohio oil field. The amount of the sale, which will probably soon be consummated, will reach about $175,000. This is the property the Standard has long been trying to buy and adds largely toward giving that corporation the controlling interest in the Ohio field.

Farmers and Knights of Labor

GALION, O., Jan. 21.—One thousand farmers and 500 Knights of Labor are in attendance upon the annual meeting of the state Farmers' Alliance and the Knights of Labor. A joint session will be held at which measures looking to the co-operation and possibly consolidation will be adopted. At the meeting of the Farmers' Alliance a split ensued at the start on the question of electing a committee on credentials. The difficulty was finally settled and three chosen instead of twenty-one. Secretary Crawford said there were 700 sub-alliances on the roll with 2,000 members. Other counties are awaiting the action of the convention before being enrolled. In his opening address the president denounced as pernicious the voting for bankers, lawyers and millionaires for office.

Sale of a Railroad.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 21.—The Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad was sold yesterday at 2 o'clock at the court house here, and was bought by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad. It was bid in by J. E. Gimpeling, general manager of the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago. The amount was $1,454,000. A deposit of $35,000 was required. President C. W. Fairbanks, Indianapolis; Eugene Zimmerman, C. Neilson and H. L. Lewis were parties to the sale.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Strike on the Chicago and Erie Railroad.

PROSPECTS OF ITS SPREADING.

Train Dispatchers and Operators Quit Work Because a Discharged Dispatcher Is Not Reinstated—Other Strikes and Labor News.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—All the train dispatchers and operators employed by the Chicago and Erie road, formerly the Chicago and Atlantic, struck at 10 o'clock last night. The places of the dispatchers were promptly filled by officers of the road, who will dispatch trains until new men can be secured. It is expected by the management that a number of train men will also strike. All trains in motion at 10 p. m. when the strike began, were allowed to proceed through to destination.

The cause of the difficulty is peculiar. C. C. Scott, secretary of the National Order of Railway Conductors, and a train dispatcher for the Chicago and Erie at Huntington, Ind., was suspended for issuing a train order which nearly precipitated a disastrous collision. In consequence the trainmen and operators employed by the company threatened to strike if Scott was not reinstated, and several conferences have been held between them and the management at Huntington, Ind.

In the meantime the company learned that Scott had been previously been discharged from the New York, Lake Erie and Western, where his superiors gave him a bad record for unreliability. General Manager Tucker decided that it would be unsafe to leave Scott in charge of train orders and determined to make his suspension permanent. This roused the anger of the conductors and operators, who determined to strike. An effort has been made to draw all the employees of the road into the strike. General Manager Tucker, however, thinks that the engineers and firemen will remain loyal, as their committees express satisfaction with the company's course regarding Scott. There has, however, been so much feeling stirred up by the conductors that many firemen and engineers may go out.

General Manager Tucker said that the difficulty did not extend by the Chicago and Erie division of the Erie system as yet. The Chicago and Erie extends from Chicago to Marion, O. There are about 500 train dispatchers, operators, conductors, brakemen, engineers and firemen. Of these Mr. Tucker thinks the engineers, firemen and passenger conductors will remain loyal to the company.

Dispatches from Huntington, Ind., say that the different brotherhoods of engineers, conductors and firemen will stand by Scott, and that the employees on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio division on the Erie system will stand by the Chicago and Erie strikers. The New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio extends from Marion, O., to Salamanca, N. Y., with branches into Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Employing Hungarian Miners.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—The river coal operators have been bringing Hungarians to the river pits to displace the 5,000 striking miners. It is stated that several hundred of the Hungarians were thrown out of work in the coal regions by the recent shut-down have secured work in the Monongahela pits. Whether the river operators are giving employment to the Hungarians temporarily in order to break the miners' strike, or whether they intend to make Hungarian labor a factor in the river mines in the future is not known. It is likely, however, that steps will be taken shortly to call a convention, and therefore an early and amicable settlement of the trouble on the river is looked for.

Convention of Cokers.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., Jan. 21.—The annual convention of the Connellsville region of cokers began yesterday and is likely to last for several days. A heated discussion took place over a resolution to postpone the election of the district officers until April. The resolution was adopted. Some of the leaders threaten to resign before the close of the meeting. The question of asking a conference with the operators will be brought up. It is probable the operators will refuse to go into a conference with the men. Secretary Watson and Patrick McBryde, of the general executive board, addressed the convention.

Strike at an End.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The strike of the operators and station agents employed on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad system, appears to be at an end. The strike committee complains bitterly of the large number of operators who signed the agreement promising to strike, when ordered to do so, refused to fulfill their agreement when the crisis came.

Trains Sidetracked.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 21.—It is reported from Hammond, Ind., and other points that the engineers on the Chicago and Erie, upon receiving intimation of the train dispatchers' strike, run their trains on to sidings and banked their fires, refusing to proceed.

Reducing Wages.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 21.—The Bethlehem Iron company, yesterday notified its employees that there would be a reduction ranging from 10 to 25 per cent. in all departments on and after Feb. 1. This affects over 2,000 iron workers.

Sidelined Away from Home.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—N. E. Swart-out committed suicide by poison in a private boarding-house here Monday night. He left letters addressed to his wife and daughter at 42 West Thirty-eighth street, New York. Other papers showed that he was a member of the Union League club, Chicago.

SPRECKLES' SUGAR.

He Has 40,000,000 Pounds Stored in San Francisco Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—Fully 20,000 tons of bonded Java sugar lies in the ware houses on Mission Rock, in San Francisco bay. It is the property of Claus Spreckels, and will be held there till April 1, when, under the provisions of the McKinley bill, it will be admitted into the country duty free.

For months Spreckels has been keeping pace with the Java sugar planters in buying and storing their product. He has fairly bled the sugar market, and now has the greater portion of the year's output under his control.

After April 1, the consumption of sugar in this country will increase, it is expected, from 57 to 77 per cent., possibly to 80 per cent., or equal to the consumption of Great Britain and other free trade countries. There will then be an enormous demand for sugar, which will be only obtainable then at the prices which Spreckels chooses to set upon it.

A WOMAN'S SECRET.

Convicted of Counterfeiting She Becomes a Raving Maniac.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Four months ago this city and neighboring community was flooded with large amounts of spurious silver coin. Detectives were put at work and the counterfeiters were traced to Mrs. Gertrude Russell, the wife of a prominent business man living in Ohio opposite here. Mrs. Russell was arrested in West Virginia, and indicted by the United States court at Parkersburg. She was convicted, but was released on a motion for a new trial.

During the last few weeks her disgrace has preyed upon her mind, and Monday she became a raving maniac. A strange part of the affair is that although repeatedly questioned, she has never divulged where she secured the counterfeiters, and the officials are still in the dark concerning the makers of the coin.

FROM GAS TO COAL.

Three Thousand Hands to Get Work by the Return to Old Ways.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Three months past have seen a remarkable revolution in manufacture in the Ohio valley. Over four-fifths of the immense plants located in this city, Bellaire, Martin's Ferry and north between Wheeling and Steubenville have been compelled to abandon the use of natural gas on account of shortage of supply, and return to coal. It is estimated that employment will be given to 3,000 men in mining and transporting coal by the change, which affects plants employing over 15,000 hands. To-day the gas fields which supplied all these industries are exhausted, and nearly $3,000,000 invested in plants is a complete loss.

Infant Strangled to Death.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 21.—At an early hour Monday morning an infant was found at the gate of the residence of O. W. Conner, in this city. The child was dead and partly frozen when found, but there were no marks to indicate who had left it or how long it had remained there. A post-mortem revealed the fact that the child had evidently been strangled to death. It was a strong, full-grown girl baby. The officers are working on the case and think they have information that will lead to the arrest of the guilty persons.

Wants $7,000 for an Expired Ticket.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 21.—Aaron Hart has commenced suit against the Pennsylvania company, at this place, for $7,000 damages. In his complaint he sets forth that on Sept. 20 he bought a first class round trip ticket from Columbus to Grand Island, Neb., by way of Chicago, and that upon his return, while at Chicago, he was so delayed by the company's representative at that place in getting his ticket stamped that the train on which he ought to have departed was missed by him and his ticket expired, greatly to his damage.

Boy Train Wreckers.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 21.—In the circuit court at this place Judge Keyes sent James Adkins, Joseph and Willis Hull, 12-year-old boys, to the Plainfield reform school until they are 21 years of age. These boys, on account of their incorrigibility, have not been allowed to attend the city schools for two years, and for the last six months have been greatly disturbing the operating department of the Pennsylvania company at this place by putting obstructions upon their tracks with a view to wrecking trains.

Sensational Suicide.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 21.—A big sensation was caused here yesterday afternoon by the discovery of the dead body of Col. Theodore W. Bean, who was found lying in the cellar of his law office with the throat slashed with a razor. Investigation showed that the suicide was caused by financial troubles. Col. Bean was 38 years of age and was a prominent man in Republican politics.

Incendiary Fires.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 21.—In the last two months there have been twenty-eight incendiary fires here. Three more occurred Monday night, as follows: In William Barnett's stable, St. Raphael's school building and Henry Weekly's barn, all in different parts of the city. The aggregate loss is only $350. The police are straining every nerve to capture the perpetrators.

Prisoners Escape.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 21.—The prisoners in the jail at Los Lunas escaped early yesterday morning. The structure is a two-story adobe, and they had tunneled under the outer wall, through which they escaped. Pablo Montana, one of the most desperate murderers in that county, and a horse thief named McCauley are among the escaped.

SUFFERING POOR.

Their Cry Comes From All Parts of Europe.

THOUSANDS ARE SUFFERING.

The Salvation Army in London Making an Effort to Relieve the Suffering People—Starving and Freezing in the Streets of Paris—Germany a Like Sufferer—Other Cable News.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—From all parts of Europe comes the cry of the suffering poor. London is in as much need of a Balfour relief fund as Ireland. The poor boxes kept in the magistrates' courts are exhausted in answering the calls of respect and well recommended hungry people, and thousands are known to be starving at home sooner than accept the alternative of going to the work house. The Salvation Army shelters are crowded, and for several nights many have had to be turned away for lack of accommodations. The charge at these shelters for supper, bed and breakfast is four pence, but those without money are received, and allowed to pay in labor.

In Paris the authorities are hiring additional buildings for the reception of the destitute, numbers of whom wander all night in the streets. The warming rooms for the poor in Vienna are very successful in alleviating misery, and a movement is on foot to add a bowl of soup for each person.

A petition has been presented to the German emperor representing the terrible condition of the inhabitants of Schwidnitz and other districts in Silesia where typhus brought on by hunger is claiming many victims. The Duke of Ratibor, leader of the feudal party in Prussia, owns much territory there, but appears indifferent to the sufferings of his people.

Is the Emperor Ill?

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—An ominous coincidence is mentioned in connection with the court festivities of Monday night in this city. The Emperor William was to have made a speech, but his physicians insisted that he should not, owing to a sore throat. This was exactly the first public announcement made regarding the trouble which brought about the death of the late Emperor Frederick, and the recollection of that part cast no little gloom over Monday night's brilliant assembly. The questions suggested to many minds is whether the young Kaiser has the beginning of the terrible complaint which gave him the crown at 30. The German press dare not hint such a thing, but Berlin is full of whispers.

A Protest from Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—The German court has been asked to remonstrate with Russia against the harsh treatment of the German settlers in Russian Poland. The settlers were induced by the Russians to come to Poland and take up lands from which the Poles had been expelled. The German colonies have become very prosperous, the Berlin company at Doubo owning a railroad. Now that the relations of Germany and Russia are changed, Russia has discovered that the Germans are dangerous, and threatens to drive them out of the empire.

Revolution in Chili.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A despatch from Buenos Ayres says that Don Augustin Edwards, a very wealthy man, is said to be the moving spirit of the revolution in Chili, and will take Balmaseda place, should the revolution prove successful. Valparaiso is in a very excited condition and only the presence of a numerous garrison prevents an outbreak. Popular sympathy is almost entirely with the insurgents.

Protesting Against the Blockade.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Dispatches have arrived here stating that the diplomatic representatives of foreign governments at Santiago de Chili have formally protested against the blockade of the ports of Chili by the armed vessels of the revolutionists.

Earthquake in Switzerland.

GENEVA, Jan. 21.—Slight earthquake shocks were experienced here yesterday and the drowning of three persons, which occurred shortly afterwards, while skating in the harbor, is attributed to the ice having been broken by the shocks.

Scotch Strike Breaking Up.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Scottish railroad strike continues to show signs of breaking up, and there is a general disposition to serve who can. Forty-four of the strikers, including a number of veteran engineers, resumed work last night.

France Will Send Her War Ships.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The statement is made in diplomatic circles in this city that the French government has determined to dispatch a number of warships with instructions to rendezvous in Chilian waters.

River Tagus Frozen Over.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—The river Tagus is frozen over and the river Elbro, in the vicinity of Saragossa, is covered with nineteen inches of ice, the first ice since 1829.

Jay Gould's Little Superstition.

That very hard headed financier, Mr. Jay Gould, is said to believe, if not in a "lucky penny," at least in a luck pen wiper. This pen wiper is a primitive construction of blue velvet, made by his only daughter when she was 3 years old. It lies upon his desk by day and is carefully looked up at night. The legend runs that just before the great strike on the Missouri Pacific road the pen wiper disappeared mysteriously, and just after the settlement it reappeared as mysteriously, its owner, however, having parted with $1,000,000 in the interval.—Harper's Bazar.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1891

As Squire R. B. Hunter remarked at the last meeting of the farmers, "talk's cheap, but it takes money to start tobacco warehouses."

Tobacco sales here would prove a bonanza for all the hotels, and there is hardly a merchant who would not be greatly benefited.

The people of Maysville will regret it if they fail to take advantage of the opportunity now offered to establish a leaf tobacco market here.

The Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Association will not have to contend with the Leaf Tobacco Exchange if they open warehouses in Maysville.

Had Smith M. Weed, of New York, never flickered in the fight for tariff reform, he would most likely have been the next Senator from that State.

The Con. Con. hasn't gotten through with the chapter on Revenue and Taxation, although it has been pounding away at it for about two weeks now.

Fully ninety-nine people out of every hundred spoken to on the subject are of the firm opinion that tobacco warehouses here would pay big. The matter can be fully tested within the next six months.

The great Cambria Iron Company, of Pennsylvania, has issued orders for a reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of 5,000 workmen in its employ, to take effect February 1. These reductions in "protected" industries are becoming more and more frequent.

It appears the BULLETIN was wrong in its statement the other day about the game law. The time for killing quail does not expire until the 1st of February. Nearly every Legislature changes this law, and it would take a "Philadelphia lawyer" to keep track of it.

The big tobacco manufacturers have expressed a willingness to furnish resident buyers for any market the growers may establish. This warehouse here in Maysville would enable the farmers of Mason and surrounding counties to sell their crop direct to the manufacturer, and that in a strong competitive market. This ought to induce every farmer to take stock in the association to establish the warehouses here.

The Democratic members of the New York Legislature have spoken, and if nothing unforeseen should occur to prevent it, Governor Hill will succeed Evans as U. S. Senator from the Empire State. The Governor should content himself with this honor, and not let his vaulting ambition overleap itself. He may not have been false to Cleveland and the party in '88, but it would be hard to make a vast number of the rank and file believe otherwise.

The warehousemen of Louisville have had their own way so long that they don't like this idea of the grower stepping in and selling his crop in his own warehouse. Having found out that the manufacturers intend to patronize the growers warehouse, they now say the growers warehouse will be compelled to join the Exchange and be governed by the uniform fees and rules of inspection. The growers say they are able to attend to their own business. The warehousemen talk as though the growers were their slaves, and have to do their bidding. How do the growers like it?

A Remarkable Coincidence.

In correcting copy, Jas. D. McClintock's name was placed among the Bourbon Bank directors instead of the Agricultural, in our Friday's issue, and by a very remarkable coincidence, another paper came out the day following with the same mistake.—Bourbon News.

Such coincidences are common these days, Bruce. There are ten or twelve papers in the surrounding country and some up in Bourbon that come out weekly with a lot of local news that appeared several days before, word for word, in the EVENING BULLETIN.

After the Absentees.

The Hon. Mr. Forgy, Butler County's delegate in the Constitutional convention, got after the absentees yesterday in a very unique manner. He offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, This convention has been in session for more than 100 days, and, WHEREAS, It often occurs that there is not a quorum of members present and business is thereby retarded while members are at home or absent from this House; therefore, be it Resolved, By this convention, that the newspapers and the voters of this Commonwealth are requested to notify any delegate absenting himself from the convention, that his presence is requested at the State House in order to make a quorum, and if he be not present in forty-eight hours, his name and all other absentees be stricken from the payroll.

It is not known what became of the resolution, but the Louisville Times' correspondent thinks it would have an excellent effect.

NOT IN IT.

Lieutenant Governor Bryan Says He is Not a Candidate for Governor.

Lieutenant Governor Bryan is not in the race for Governor, and says he will not be. In answer to a question of the Covington Commonwealth yesterday as to whether he will be a candidate, he said: "I will not. To be the Governor of Kentucky is worthy the ambition of any man. To my mind the position is most exalted and alluring, and I need not say what an honor I would esteem it for the people of my native State to deem me worthy of being chosen to it. But a man's first duty is to his family, and inasmuch as I am dependent upon my profession for my livelihood, that sacred duty forbids me aspiring to, or taking any office that would compel me to give up the practice of my profession."

"I do not wish to be understood to mean that I assert that I would be elected Governor if I became a candidate, for the reason already assigned has rendered it altogether unnecessary to consider what my chances might have been. Voluntary assurances of support, in the event that I made the race, have come to me from different sections of the State, and I am seriously appreciative of them, as I am of the kind and pleasant things that have been said of me in connection with this office by many of the papers of Kentucky."

The Lieutenant Governor has many friends in Mason County who would have given him a warm support had he decided to enter the race. It looks like the fight will narrow down to Brown, Clardy and Clay.

Constitutional Convention Doings.

The Chapter on Revenue and Taxation was before the convention yesterday. It had been debated for several days in Committee of the Whole.

An amendment to Section 2, exempting endowed colleges from taxation was adopted by a vote of 57 to 10.

Colonel Young's amendment, exempting not only public libraries, but the property whose income is devoted exclusively to the library purposes, was adopted by a vote of 49 to 20.

Governor Buckner offered an amendment, proposing that taxes on all exempted property shall be made up by the community, district or city in which the exempted property lies. The vote stood 2 to 50 against, only Mr. Bennett, of Greenup, voting with Governor Buckner.

Dr. Clardy's amendment exempting growing crops and Mr. Johnson's exempting parsonages and houses of priests were adopted. Exempted lands of churches in cities and towns, however, was reduced from one-half to one fourth of an acre.

Section 2 was finally adopted, with its many amendments.

Section three was then adopted, authorizing the General Assembly to levy the annual tax for State purposes, and requiring that such tax shall be made uniform on all property.

"The Hustler"

This new farce-comedy success will be the attraction at the opera house next Saturday night. An exchange says: "The play is billed as 'the farce-comedy surprise,' and that it is a genuine novelty is the universal opinion of all who have witnessed it. In constructing the work, Author Lew Rosin is said to have departed entirely from the well-worn methods so long employed in the building of similar pieces, and the result is a production that unfailingly tickles the palates of all classes of theater-goers. White-whiskered 'gags,' old-fashioned devices like trick stairs and siphon bottles, and all the rough and tumble concomitants of the average farce-comedy have been rigidly excluded; and in their place is found fresh, spontaneous humor, legitimate comedy situations, and a myriad of novel musical features." Tickets on sale at Nelson's.

To the Farmers of Kentucky: I have a limited quantity of barley, blue and yellow, tobacco seed for free distribution to farmers only. These seed are all Kentucky grown, and their sprouting qualities have been tested by competent florists. They will be sent to any address on receipt of request. Write plainly name and postoffice address.

C. Y. WILSON, Commissioner

For the Farmer.

D. N. Prewitt bought last week twenty-three lambs from Adam Pence at 4 cents. He also bought a few hogs at 3 cents.—Danville Advocate.

Mr. Byar, of Chatham, Bracken, bought five crops of tobacco in Robertson last week, two at 9 cents, one at 10½, one at 8½, and one at 10 and 4. The crops are to be delivered at Chatham.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says: "Experience, I think, will prove that, while good horses may be of any color, gray horses are the strongest, healthiest and most valuable."

River News

Still falling steadily at this point

The Congo resumed her place in the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh trade last night.

The Henry M. Stanley will pass up tonight after 12 o'clock for Charleston on the Kanawha and the Bonanza for Pomeroy.

The Sherley is due down this evening and the big Bostona will pass down after 12 to-night.

A Pleasing Sense

OUR NEIGHBORS.

SARDIS.

Wood Browning is at Cleveland, O.—a school boy again.

Jack Sult is taking lessons in book-keeping at Lebanon, O.

Squire Raymond got his new ice house filled with three-inch ice last Friday.

Miss Lizzie Vardman, of Saline County, Mo., is the guest of Miss Annie B. Dye, of "Forest Home."

Mrs. Green Lear and Mr. Chanslor, of Millersburg, are visiting Mrs. James Ball. Charlie is quite an artist.

Rev. Simmons, the new Baptist minister at Mayslick, had a good hearing last Sunday. Give him a fair trial.

Misses Mary Robb and Emma Browning have returned from the Queen City. They brought home some pretty underwear toilers.

Mrs. Squire Grigby visited her daughter, Mrs. James Hunter, of Nicholas, last week, and reports her busily engaged in house-keeping, and most pleasantly situated.

Friday and Saturday nights next the junior brass band boys come in for a two-nights' benefit. Superb entertainment is promised to give them an outfit of new uniforms. Come out.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Sult are "at home" to their many friends. Those who have called are favorably impressed with the Keystones. Sults on three pounds a day, and his 120-pound shoots one pound per day. Regular and abundant supply of corn did the work.

Your former correspondent at Shannon has not forsaken his friend's in this locality, but has simply changed his base, having "other fish to fry." New Year's greeting and good wishes of your new correspondent cordially reciprocated. "Ring out the old, ring in the new." It's a good rule to change pupils occasionally.

A Useful Invention.

There seems to be no limit to the triumphs of inventive genius. A Californian, Mr. A. L. Bancroft, of San Francisco, has invented a method of naming and numbering the roads, lanes and byways of sparsely populated country districts, so that a traveler can find his way to any isolated and remote dwelling as readily as he could find his way to a residence in a city. To people living in the country, and still more to those who want to find the residences of people living in remote sections, Mr. Bancroft's system will be of much practical value. The world is getting a great many valuable things from California.—New York Ledger.

Utilizing the Rail.

A Bangor, Me., electrician thinks that the wire running under the electric railway track is unnecessary. He believes that the rails are sufficient conductors for the ground current. On the other hand the men who have worked on the road are very confident that this wire is indispensable. It is connected carefully with every rail and a sure circuit thus secured. Should any rail be skipped it would be known as a "dead rail." The copper wire that is used in this work is quite expensive and has formed an important item in the cost of the road.—Exchange.

A Flat Phonograph Cylinder.

In phonographs, graphophones and similar sound recorders use is usually made of cylinders covered with tinfoil or wax for receiving, as the cylinders revolve, the impression made by the scribes. A new sound recording apparatus operates on an entirely different principle. The cylinder is replaced by a flat surface, which is made to oscillate and move downward at regular intervals by special mechanism.—New York Journal.

Got What He Needed.

A young medical student walked into the Old Book store, and said: "I want to look at a work on anatomy." "I regret to say," replied Mr. Burke, "that I have only one book on that subject." "What's that?" "Burton's 'Anatomy of Melancholy,'" and he showed him the volume. The young man turned the leaves mechanically a few seconds, said it would do, paid for the book and walked out.—Atlanta Journal.

A Noteworthy Exception.

From the Kimball (S. D.) Graphic: "While the columns of the Graphic are open to any and all unobjectionable advertisements, yet it is quite impossible for us to speak knowingly of the merits of various articles of merchandise advertised. Particularly is this true of patent medicines. But there are exceptions occasionally and a noteworthy exception is the celebrated Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This now universally known medicine has been advertised in the Graphic for four or five years but not until recently had we any personal knowledge of its wonderful efficacy which has come about through the prevailing influenza and the stubborn cough that has so often attended it. In the writer's family this medicine has on several occasions this winter cured a cough that baffled any and all other medicines; and the number of families in Kimball and vicinity, in which this remedy has been used with like effects, attests to its value as a specific for coughs and colds of every nature." For sale by Power & Reynolds, druggists. 14d12t

SCHOOL NOTES.

CHESTER—No. 50.

Here is one of the finest school houses in the county, and by an addition, which was built in the early fall, the accommodation for the scholars is all that can be desired. The house is well located and finely lighted and ventilated. There are three teachers, Mr. H. B. Collins principal, and Misses Sue Grant and Lela Martin assistants. The arrangement of the house renders it possible to have a thorough classification of the scholars. In this regard we think there can be improvement, and we propose to revisit this school very soon.

We heard various classes in each room, which recited very well. In the principal's room we submitted some grammatical problems on the blackboard which seemed to interest the pupils, and they manifested a very intelligent appreciation. The same exercise was given in geography. Mr. Collins is faithful in the discharge of his duties, and I can say truly the same of Miss Grant and Miss Martin. These ladies have their classes well drilled, and require the children to move in such order that prevents disorder.

JERSEY RIDGE—No. 30.

Here is a good brick school house, conveniently located. The trustees are Thomas Kerr, W. J. Neal and John Baldwin, who pay good attention to the interests of the school.

The teacher is Mr. W. W. Cook, who has had a long experience and is thoroughly at home in the school room. He has classes in all prescribed branches of education. His scholars showed good training. They paid close attention to the address of the Superintendent. This school is doing well.

CHARLESTON—No. 109—(COLORED.)

Here is a good school house, conveniently situated. The trustees are Robert Madden, Harrison Lyons and Robert Berry. The teacher is Miss Alexander. The attendance is 37. The school is doing well and the teacher is thoroughly competent. The scholars are orderly and well behaved, and pay good attention when addressed.

MR. H. C. MASON, Secretary of the Benton Harbor and St. Joe Electric Light and Street Railway Company, up in Michigan, was in town yesterday and called on the BULLETIN. He is visiting relatives in the county. Captain W. W. Bean and Dr. Keith, well known in Maysville, are also interested in the company.

THE engine to furnish power for the electric street railway arrived yesterday and is being set up to-day at the plant in the West End. The power used in operating the cars last Saturday was from the electric light plant. As soon as the new engine is got in position, the electric cars will be placed on the road permanently.

FREDERICK D. LOSEY, the dramatic reader and impersonator, will give an entertainment at the opera house next Monday night. This will be the third in the Lyceum's course, and promises to be thoroughly enjoyable. Rev. Robert Nourse says of Mr. Losey: "I have never heard any one who delighted me more." Professor Phelps says Mr. Losey "is unusually gifted as an elocutionist."

The Sullivan-Broshears Murder Case Passed Till the Next Term of Court—Other News

The Sullivan-Broshears murder case was called in the Circuit Court this morning, and by agreement of both sides it was continued till the April term. Commonwealth's Attorney Sallee has not been well for several days and Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, was not able to be present. Mr. Gill, another attorney for the prosecution, is ill. Broshears' relatives did not care to go into a trial of the case without Mr. Bronston, who is kept away by his duties as a member of the Constitutional convention.

After this case had been continued, the case against Hiram Stewart, one of the three negroes charged with the murder of Simon Travis, was called. Of the others, John Marshall was acquitted last October, and Tobe Singleton was tried at present term and got four years in the "pen." The case has been sifted thoroughly twice, and the attorneys for the State did not believe they could convict Stewart on the evidence they had, so they had the indictment against him quashed, and he was discharged.

The grand jury reported six indictments Monday, five of them for selling liquor to minors, and the other for petit larceny.

The trial of Wm. Price for shooting and wounding Joseph Forsyth at the Maysville fair last August was finished last night. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged.

Got the Names Mixed.

In the Circuit Court news published last Saturday there was an item stating that William Thomas and Alfred Singleton, colored, had been indicted for grand larceny. The item was correct as far as Thomas is concerned, but Alfred Singleton has not been indicted for grand larceny or any other offense. Alfred Foster is the individual who was Thomas' partner in the offense and who was indicted. Singleton was granted a divorce the same day the two others were indicted, and the Clerk in making up his minutes got the names Alfred Singleton and Alfred Foster mixed. The BULLETIN went by the record. This explains how the item appeared. Singleton lives in this city and bears an excellent reputation for honesty and industry, and his friends were surprised to read that he was under any charge. The matter was brought to our attention yesterday, and we very gladly make this explanation to set him right before the public.

Playing the Crazy Act.

A special from Flemingsburg says: "W. S. Piper, who is in jail for horse-stealing, was tried Monday on a writ of lunacy. His father, who lives at McArthur, Ohio, claimed that his son had been in the Ohio Insane Asylum four different times, having been discharged once as recovered and the other times making his escape. Mr. Piper failed to furnish sufficient evidence, and the prisoner was adjudged of sound mind and remanded to jail to await the next term of Circuit Court."

Piper is the fellow who gave his name as Livingston and hired a horse and buggy from Mr. R. H. Pollitt a week or so ago and sold it at Flemingsburg. The young woman who was with him is reported to have said they had got away with six horses before they were caught, their plan being to hire a rig, drive a few miles and sell it and then skip to some other place. Undoubtedly, he would like to play the "lunacy racket" to get out of his present trouble.

Three Weeks in a Hay Rick.

During Christmas week Mr. T. L. Holton, who lives near Tuckahoe, missed a calf, and, after searching unsuccessfully over the farm and neighborhood for it, gave it up as lost.

Last Saturday while a man in Mr. Holton's employ was getting a load of straw, he thought he heard a peculiar noise under the rick. On removing several loads, he found the calf alive and quite lively, but a little stiff from its three weeks' imprisonment in such close quarters. It was taken out and after being fed some warm milk and rubbed up a little, it was all right and was about as frisky as any calf. Strange to say, it had lost but little flesh.

In the Blow-Up.

Mr. Charles McCormick, of this city, was in the Hotel Marvin at Findlay, O., last Sunday when it was wrecked by the frightful explosion of natural gas. Fortunately he escaped without injury.

He is traveling for a Cincinnati house, and had just entered the hotel and was standing at the clerk's desk when the blow-up occurred. The explosion landed him on his back some distance away from where he was standing when it occurred.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

CAPTAIN HEFLIN killed a dog yesterday that had been showing strong symptoms of hydrophobia. It belonged to George Strawder, the barber. It tore part of the clothing off of a colored girl on Front street Monday, and attacked Mrs. Lucy Keith that evening, but was driven away before it had done any harm. It also attacked Mr. James Wallace Monday night on Grant street.

REV. J. C. FRANK, formerly of this city, who is pastor of the Christian Church at Lancaster, Ky., read his annual report for 1890 last Sunday. The Lancaster correspondent of the Danville Advocate says: "Over $2,200 was raised by voluntary contributions and deposited in the treasury during the year, and within ten days after its close $1,500 was promptly paid to the pastor and all incidental expenses met. A surplus of $27.40 remains in the treasury. The preacher pertinently remarked that the $2,200 were free will offerings from the members and not 'yster and ice cream' proceeds."

If a merchant has any snap, any energy in himself let him show it in his advertising. If he has any bargains in his store, let him say so. If he has connections which enable him to sell better goods, or the same goods at lower prices than anybody else, let him say that; say it plainly, strongly and in a way that will carry conviction of truthfulness; and on the same principle that leads him to treat visitors to his store so that they will call again; let him write his advertisement so that his next advertisement will be looked for; if you get a person's attention once try to hold it. The whole thing is summed up in this: One should study advertising as he does every other department of his business. Advertising is a science—simple, it is true, as to its main elements, but requiring more thought and system than many of our business men have been accustomed to give it.—Exchange.

ELECTING SENATORS.

A Number of States' Legislatures Name Their Representatives.

ALABAMA, N. Y., Jan. 21.—At 12 o'clock yesterday the house balloted for United States senator to succeed Hon. William Everts. Upon call of the house David B. Hill received 65 and William M. Everts 58 votes. There were five absentees—Mr. Acker, Republican, Messrs. Clark of New York, Demarest of Rockland, Kennedy of Canandaigua and Stein of New York, Democrats. Speaker Sheehan declared David B. Hill as the nominee of the assembly.

The vote in the senate stood: David B. Hill, 13; William M. Everts, 19; all the senators being present.

Senator Jones Re-Elected.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 21.—Both houses of the legislature balloted for United States senator yesterday, the result being the re-election of James K. Jones, who received every Democratic vote, the Republican and Union Labor votes being divided. In the house the vote stood: Jones, 80; Jacob Friber, (Republican), 12 and 3 scattering. In the senate the vote was: Jones, 26, scattering 2.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

A Toledo Man Shoots His Divorced Wife and Then Suicide.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 21.—Sage Ernest yesterday shot his divorced wife and afterwards committed suicide at Mrs. Ernest's home, corner of Bush and Ontario streets. Ernest was addicted to drink and while under the influence of liquor he had habitually abused his wife and children, this being the ground on which his wife obtained a divorce six months ago. Since then he has importuned his wife to marry him again and threatened to take her life if she did not. She refused to have anything to do with him.

Yesterday morning he returned and repeated his demand, and upon her refusal he shot her, the bullet taking effect in the jaw, fired a shot at a boarder in the house, and then locking himself in the kitchen, put a bullet into his own brain, killing himself instantly. The woman is severely wounded but will recover.

Death of a Noted Horse Trader.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21.—Clayton H. Sanford, of New York, one of the best known horse traders in the country, died suddenly in this city yesterday of heart trouble. Mr. Sanford came to Indianapolis last Thursday to attend a meeting of the Indiana Trotting and Pacing association and to assist in arranging this season's circuit. He complained of not feeling well, but was not considered dangerously sick until a few hours before his death.

State Senator Elected.

GREENVILLE, O., Jan. 21.—The Democrats of this county yesterday in this county yesterday elected Hugh H. Thompson, of Sidney, for state senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Robertson. There was no opposition, and no Republicans voted.

Pastor's Aged Wife Burns to Death.

BURGIN, Ky., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Cooke, wife of Rev. Strother Cooke, a well known Baptist minister, was burned to death at her home near here.

Discord in the Choir.

Drilling a volunteer choir is the most exasperating work ever undertaken by a human being. In the first place it is morally certain that at least half a dozen members think they know more than the leader, and two or three are always better informed than the man who wrote the music, so they offer, with cheerful alacrity, the most idiotic suggestions as to the manner in which it should be performed, and feel much aggrieved if their ideas are not acted on. Then the women are always either so devoted to each other that they keep up a constant chatter when they should be singing or listening to the leader's direction, or are quarreling and "put each other out."

They are not responsible for all the trouble, but when they do quarrel they generally manage to enlist the men in the service of both sides, and the first thing the leader knows one half his choir has quit and the other half is about to do so because they are not numerous enough to make a creditable chorus. A choir leader says: "I have gone into church on Sunday morning and found six or eight members sitting in the congregation, instead of in their places, and the rest glaring at them from the organ stand. It is fun for them and for the people, but it's death to the leader."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Congress Gaiters and Drowning.

Speaking of congress gaiters and drowning recalls a fashionable middle aged physician who thoroughly believes in this fatality. He gave it away in this wise: While consulting a man in delicate health about his care for himself in the winter time the doctor said: "What kind of shoes have you got on?" They proved to be the fatal congress gaiters, and the doctor objected. "Did you ever see an account of a drowned man found in the bay that didn't say he had on congress gaiters? You laugh and say that doesn't make any difference, and there is no connection of cause and effect."

"How do you know there isn't? You can't trace it, but I'm not certain that congress gaiters do not tend to such moral and physical degeneracy that a man is liable to fall off a ferry boat, or in a fit of despondency to jump into the river. At any rate I don't wear them. I told a woman the same thing once and she laughed. I went on, and when I reached home found a letter from her, saying she had picked up a paper after I went away, and the first thing found several confirmations of what I said, and she wanted to admit that she was convinced."—New York Tribune.

In the Clouds.

Professor Moller, of Karlsruhe, has made some interesting observations on clouds. The highest clouds, cirrus and cirro-stratus, rise on an average to a height of nearly 30,000 feet. The middle clouds keep at from 10,000 feet to 23,000 feet in height, while the lower clouds reach to between 3,000 feet and 7,000 feet. The cumulus clouds float with their lower surface at a height of from 4,000 to 5,000 feet, while their summits rise to 16,000 feet. The tops of the Alps are often hidden by clouds of the third class, but the bottoms of the clouds of the second class, and especially of the thunder clouds, often enfold them.

The vertical dimension of a cloud observed by Professor Moller on the Nettleberg was over 1,200 feet. He stepped out of it at a height of about 3,700 feet, and high above the mountain floated clouds of the middle class, while veils of mist lay in the ravines and clefts. The upper clouds were growing thicker, while the lower ones were dissolving, and soon it began to rain and snow—Public Opinion.

A Smart Detective.

Sergeant Moser on one occasion saw a waiter in a cafe at Soho receive and place in his pocket a letter which the detective believed to be from a criminal a knowledge of whose whereabouts he was anxious to obtain. He therefore dropped his ring on the floor and asked the man to look for it. Alphonse, expecting a reward, immediately went on his hands and knees, and while thus engaged Sergeant Moser abstracted the letter from his pocket and thus obtained the means of bringing a forger to justice. Who can doubt that this was a perfectly justifiable act? But if, instead, Sergeant Moser had suborned another person to steal for reward, and without telling him the object in view, he would most assuredly have acted very wrongly.—Spectator.

The First Silk Mill in England.

A portion of the old mill built by John Lombe at Derby in 1718—the first silk mill ever erected in England—has collapsed, and it is expected that the whole building will have to come down. Lombe worked as a silk weaver in Italy, and at the risk of his life made drawings of the machinery. He then returned to England, bringing some Italian workmen, and built the factory on an island in the Derwent, having first patented the machinery. He died soon afterward, and it is said he was poisoned by a female emissary of the Italian manufacturers.

The mill was worked for many years, but has long been in disuse. It was last utilized as a steam laundry, and was condemned some years since as being unsafe.—Galignani Messenger.

Don't Show Your Collar Button.

It is desirable that a cravat or four-in-hand should be held firmly up against the tabs of a collar. The collar button never should be seen. With a cravat this may be accomplished by drawing the first knot firm. With a four-in-hand it may be accomplished by first tying a firm simple knot before making the four-in-hand movement.—Clothier and Furnisher.
